PASTORAL MINISTRIES - Charleston Davis Creek 2004 - Present

TEACHING, COACHING, CONSULTING - NCS Consultant

John Anderson serves as the Senior Pastor of the Davis Creek Church of the Nazarene, in Charleston, West Virginia. The Davis Creek Church is a ReFocusing Church which is building on a great history and moving beyond it. In its great history, the Davis Creek Church at one time was listed in Ripley's Believe It Or Not as the Largest Rural Church in America. When John arrived in 2004, the Sunday morning average was 140. In the first two years of the ReFocus process, the David Creek church has grown to an average attendance of 210.

John has also served as the Church Growth & Missional Director for the West Virginia South District from 2006-2008. The District began its partnership with NCS in 2005. In June of 2006, the District make the decision to hire John as an NCS Coach & Consultant to take NCS training & resources and make them available to district pastors and lay leaders. The District has the goal of planting ten churches in the next five years. Already in 2006, two of the ten churches have been launched.

The Anderson family resides in Charleston, West Virginia. John and his wife, Nancy, have two sons: Aaron and Adam.
